SHILLONG: The State Level Monitoring Committee headed by Meghalaya Chief Minister, Dr. Mukul Sangma has been formed by the State Government to check the implementation of Total Sanitation Campaign is properly implemented to ensure better health for the people of the State and performances of the officers implementing these different schemes will be explained before the committee, mentioned Meghalaya Chief Secretary, WMS Pariat.

While addressing a gathering at the two-day workshop on Scaling and Sustaining Total Sanitation held at Hotel Pinewood on Friday, Pariat said that the State had not done well in the implementation of the Total Sanitation Campaign, he, however complimented the West Garo Hills district for effective implementation of the Total Sanitation Campaign, which has changed the lives of the rural people.

Meanwhile, team leader of Water and Sanitation Programme, South Asia, Christopher Juan Costain pointed out that India has become one of the leading nations of the world, but implementation of the scheme for providing proper sanitation to the people was at the lowest ebb.

Costain further said that there was no shortage of fund and money in implementing the programme as the scheme was being fully sponsored by the Government, hence there should be no problem for India to effectively implement the Total Sanitation Campaign.

"The implementation of the safe sanitation should be an agenda of high priority of the State and everyone should play a part to make India healthier and wealthier", added Costain.
