Framework of Engagement with PSUs, Corporate PSUs, Corporates

Framework of Engagement

1. Introduction to Swachh Bharat Mission (SBM)

The Prime Minister’s flagship program Swachh Bharat Mission - Gramin aims to make India Open Defecation Free by 2nd October, 2019. The program also aims at promoting effective Solid and Liquid Waste Management (SLWM) and general cleanliness practices.

Nearly 600 million Indians practice open defecation, which is proven to adversely impact health, including childhood stunting, as well as affect the dignity and security of women. The lack of adequate sanitation and cleanliness in rural areas and, in particular, the practice of open defecation, are major developmental issues facing India. These are not just about construction of toilets, but are much more complex, involving cultural and behavioural biases, coupled with the challenge of achieving scale.

2. The need for corporate participation in SBM

India has over 650,000 villages in 677 districts, of which about 60,000 villages and 16 districts are Open Defecation Free (ODF) as of creation of this framework. The scale of the task is enormous and requires focussed and dedicated action. As underlined by the Hon’ble Prime Minister, to make SBM a success, it must not remain a government activity, but should transform into a people’s movement.

The district is the unit for integration of all government machinery and MDWS is working with the state governments and other stakeholders to create an environment to facilitate the work of the district collectors on sanitation. There is immense potential for Swachh Bharat Mission to collaborate with the public and private sector corporates. The creativity and efficiency of the corporate sector, and their management and financial resources can help in achieving the vision of a Swachh Bharat.
