Expression of Interest (Eoi) for Sector Partner

Department of Drinking Water and Sanitation (DDWS), Ministry of Jal Shakti is implementing Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM), which aims to provide Functional Household Tap Connection (FHTC) to every rural household of the country by 2024. With the national goal of improving the 'ease of living' for people in rural areas, Government of India has shifted the focus of providing potable water from habitations to rural households by launching Jal Jeevan Mission (JJM) in August, 2019. JJM is a time-bound, mission-mode programme that focuses on service delivery at household level, i.e. water supply on regular and long-term basis in adequate quantity and of prescribed quality.

The 73rd Amendment to the Constitution of India has placed the subject of drinking water in the Eleventh Schedule and has assigned its management to Gram Panchayats. Keeping this in view, under JJM, Gram Panchayats and local community will play the pivotal role in planning, implementation, management, operation and maintenance of in-village water supply systems including drinking water sources.

The decentralized, demand-driven, community-managed implementation of the programme will instill a 'sense of ownership' among the local community, create an environment of trust and bring in transparency leading to better implementation and long-term O&M of water supply systems. JJM envisages that the Gram Panchayats and/ or their sub-committees, i.e. user groups like the Village Water & Sanitation Committee (VWSC)/ Paani Samiti, etc. are to plan, build, manage, operate and maintain in-village water supply systems ensuring that the schemes last at least till the full design period.

The mission plans to holistically address the challenges, viz. depleting water sources, increasing water quality-issues, lack of in-village infrastructure, poor Operation & Maintenance (O&M), lack of resource efficiency, competing water demands from various sectors, etc.

Many organizations, individuals already working in the field of water have shown genuine interest to be partner in this pan-India programme, Jal Jeevan Mission. Thus, JJM aims to harness the huge potential of the local community through Voluntary Organizations (VOs), Non-Governmental Organizations (NGOs), social service & charity organizations, and professionals working in drinking water sector, who are willing to work towards mobilizing and enhancing the capacities of the communities to achieve the goal of the mission.

For this transformational Mission's success, it is imperative that the Government and private/ corporate sector including voluntary & charity organizations join hands to develop synergies for efficient outputs. To make water everyone's business, mission strives to build partnerships and work together with various institutions/ individuals to achieve drinking water security for all.

National Jal Jeevan Mission (NJJM), Department of Drinking Water and Sanitation (DDWS), Ministry of Jal Shakti seeks interest from foundations, trusts, NGOs, Community Based Organizations (CBOs), VOs, etc. to work closely with the mission as 'Sector Partner'. Sector partners will be organizations proactively working in the social sector, as detailed below, with a wide outreach and impact. They are expected to play a huge role in supporting the implementation of JJM. The Terms of Reference (ToR) and declaration/ undertaking form maybe downloaded from the website <https://jalshakti-ddws.gov.in> and CPP Portal.

In view of this, services of organizations/ agencies having experience in the field of water, sanitation and hygiene, natural resources management, community engagement, capacity building & awareness generation, education, health, tribal development, gender & equity, etc. is required. The interested agencies may submit their applications in the prescribed format for consideration of the NJJM.
